HARDING DELIVERS FIRST MESSAGE TO CONGRESS

SWIFT AND ARMOUR TO SELL PROPERTY

Interest in Stock Yards and Railroads Must Be Disposed of.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 12.—A new plan under which Swift and Company and Armour and Company are to divest themselves of their interests in stock yards and stock yard terminal railroads, was agreed to today by the department of justice, and immediately approved by Justice Stafford of the District of Columbia supreme court.

Under the new plan the companies must deliver their stock in the yard and terminal to the Illinois Trust and Savings bank, at Chicago within 30 days for administration by two trustees, Henry W. Anderson of Richmond, Virginia and George Sutherland of Salt Lake City, until sold, which must be within a year.

The plan sets forth that the defendants are to proceed to sell their stock with due diligence, with reports of all sales submitted to the court for its approval. These reports must contain the price and the name of the proposed purchaser and must be accompanied by affidavits that the proposed purchasers are in no way connected with the defendants.

In the event that any of the stock remains unsold at the end of the year, the defendants may obtain an extension of time on a showing made to the court of diligence in their efforts to dispose of the stock at a fair and reasonable price.

The trustees are to receive salaries of ten thousand dollars a year each, and will have power to interfere in the management of any stock yard or railroad, if in the opinion of both either the Sherman act or the terms of the decree are being violated.

The legal principal of course was up to the department of justice, Justice Stafford said, after he had signed the plan, "when the department had approved the plan it was only incumbent upon me to see that the law was not violated by any of the particulars. It was glad to find that such was not the case, and therefore approved the plan."

HARDING CONFERS WITH SENATE COMMITTEE

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 12.—Republican members of the senate foreign relations committee were called into conference this morning by President Harding while he was reading the final proof of his first message, which he was to read to congress in person at 1 p. m.

What are you giving Ada in return for the very many things that Ada is giving you?

Do you belong to that busy class of people who have made Ada the city it is and are making the city it is to be?

Are you helping build houses and streets and schools and churches and helping create an environment wherein a better generation of people may be developed?

Are you showing each day you live that you have a decent respect for the regard of your neighbors and a wholesome respect for yourself?

Or, on the other hand, are you filching a livelihood from those who carry our civic burdens and giving nothing in return for what you daily receive?

Are you a parasite on the life of your city, and eating from the busy hands of those who really count?

Are you sitting on the street corner criticising our faults of government and society while better men are building houses and streets and schools and churches?

Are you a laborer or a loafer, a citizen or an incubus, a contributing force to civic welfare or a clinging hobbler about the feet of those who are carrying our city forward?

Are you pumping foul air thru your face in abuse of things that are while the rest are marching onward to a better day?

Are you daily carping against God and government, when all that you need is a bath and an honest consideration to the demands of an honest job?

Would a city follow your remains to Rosedale and regret your untimely departure or would it count your death an asset and your absence a boon from above?

LIQUOR CASES UP IN COUNTY COURT

Many Old Cases Make the Docket Long and Difficult.

A hung jury was the result of the trial of Dode Brandon and Mrs. Brandon in county court yesterday. The two were jointly charged with the manufacture of Choctaw beer at their home on East 17th street in Ada, December 20, 1919. The state failed to convince some of the jurors that the defendants were guilty beyond any reasonable doubt and a mistrial resulted.

Most of the cases on the docket at this term of court are old cases a number of them being several years old. All of them were docketed for this term of court in order that final disposition may be made of them. Quite a few of the parties have left the country, which explains why so many of the cases are being dismissed. It is hoped that all the "dead" cases may be gotten off the records at the present term of court.

Eliza Owen went to trial this morning on the charge of possessing too much choc. She is a negro living in Dardtown and is jointly charged with her husband, George Owen. The latter failed to put in an appearance this morning, it being stated by his attorney that George is sick in Okmulgee county and unable to attend court. The state is alleging that when the officers went to the Owen house last October they found about sixteen gallons of the popular home brew. The case went to the jury before noon today.

Street Commissioner Repairing South Broadway Today

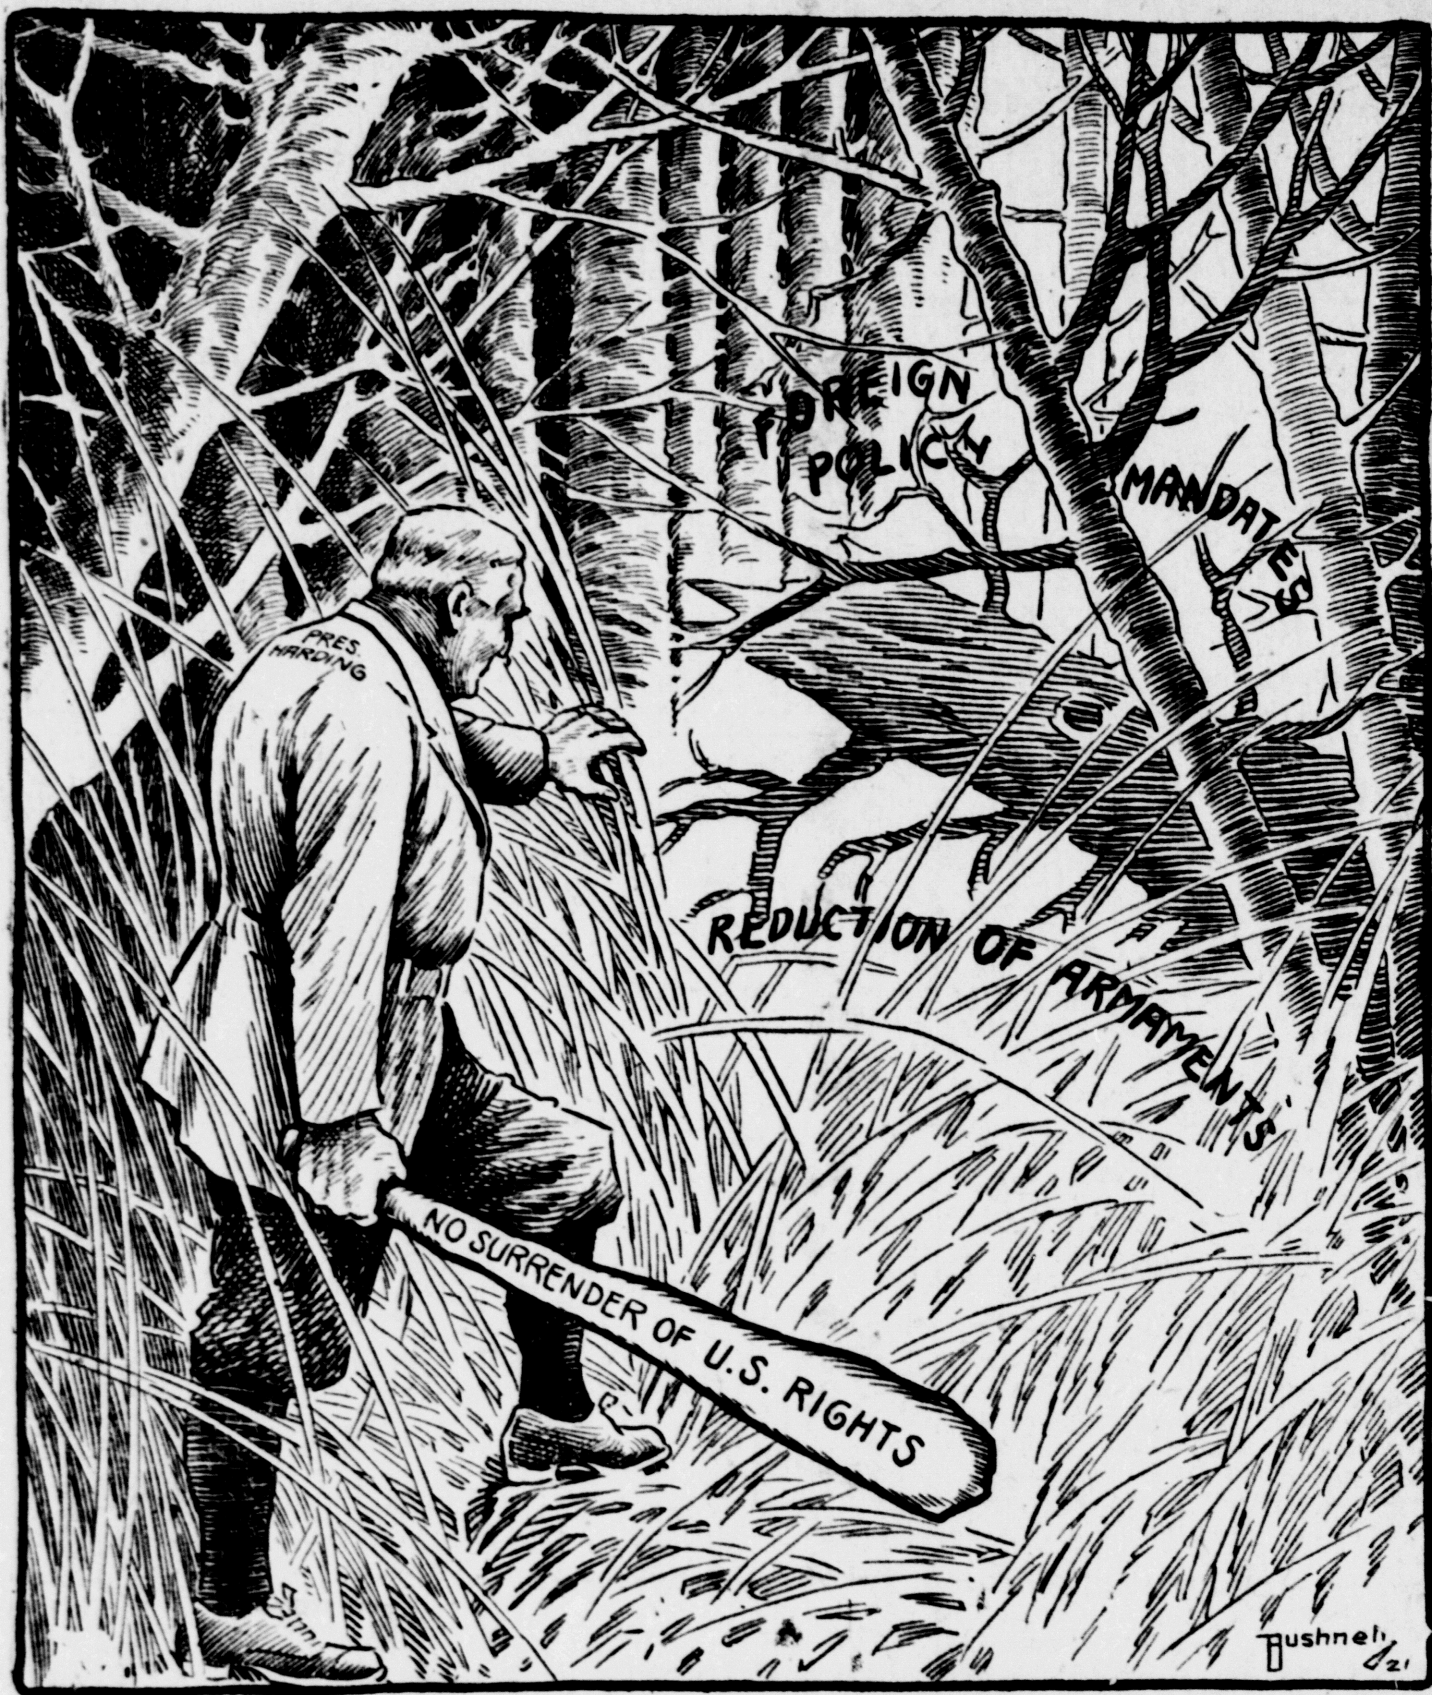

South Broadway is receiving a going over by the city street commissioner today, who is seeking to make this popular thoroughfare still more popular for autoists and adjacent property owners. A caterpillar tractor hitched to a grader has been traveling back and forth along the avenue making the rough places plane, scripturally speaking.

Because of the formation of the earth and the lay of the land along South Broadway this street is one of the difficult ones of the city to keep in good condition. During wet weather it is a thing of wonder and everything imaginable but a joy forever. The only permanent cure for its ailments is a first class pavement from Twelfth street south to the city limits.

Tonight and Wednesday partly cloudy. Warmer tonight.

Curious Boys Get Good Spanking

Phi Beta Girls Use Paddles for Weapons

Altho some preferred to keep it secret, an interesting but amusing tale has leaked out, concerning directly and indirectly the Phi Beta initiation which took place in the Education building of the Normal last Saturday. It seems that the girls, desiring to keep the operations of the sorority absolutely secret to all except its members, had secured the use of the building and induced Mr Robinson of the Normal faculty to guard the lower floor while they worked upstairs.

Four of the Normal boys, all seniors, who were over desirous of learning the secrets of the society went to the limit to find the desired information. Several and numerous plans were brought into effect during the course of the evening, but the girls, ever suspicious of eaves-droppers and in their determination to keep the initiation secret, succeeded in discovering, well concealed in a ventilator one Raymond Caskey. The process of initiation with the paddle was applied to good effect and Raymond was dismissed into the darkness outside to think it over.

District Track and Field Meet Will Be Success Is Assured

The East Central district track and field meet to be held on the Normal athletic field April 22 and 23 is showing up good at the present time, according to the report made public by the management of the affair. Teams and schools from all over the district are sending in encouraging word and a large attendance is promised.

The most important event of the meet will be the baseball tournament as some of the strongest school teams in the state will compete. Other events will be better than ever before, as the county meets are showing up good this year.

GOODYEAR COMPANY WILL REDUCE CAPITAL

(By the Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., April 12.—The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, Akron, today filed articles with the secretary of state, reducing its common capital stock from one hundred million dollars to one million dollars.

TO SEND DELEGATE TO UNITED STATES

Distinguished Jap Would Take Up Questions of Both Countries.

(By the Associated Press)
TOKIO, April 12.—Plans for sending to Washington a distinguished Jap, who would take up the entire range of the so called Pacific problems, including mandates, California China, Siberia, emigration and armaments, are understood to be in the process of formulation by the Japanese government.

Official announcement of the intention of this country to send such a delegate who would act in the capacity similar to that of former Premier Viviani of France, who is at present in the United States, has not as yet been made, but it is said the subject is receiving serious attention.

W. L. Ford was in Antlers last week visiting his mother and other relatives and friends.

Good Roads Motor Club Hold Business Session Yesterday

The Good Roads Motor club held a lively business session at the parlors of the Harris hotel yesterday at which were present the entire membership of the board of directors with the exception of the Stonewall representatives.

At this meeting a secretary and treasurer were appointed, the other officers having been elected early in the organization of the club. W. M. Pegg was chosen as treasurer and H. B. Roach secretary. On becoming secretary Mr. Roach automatically withdrew from the directorate and Joe Cole was appointed to serve in his stead.

In addition to the whole of Pontotoc county the club extended its territory of operation from the Canadian river south to Hickory, and from the Asher bridge to Calvin east and west.

The club has intended from the beginning to make the name of the organization more comprehensive and more adapted to the prerogatives which it comprehends, and in order that a suitable name may be found it was decided to offer a year's membership in the club to the person submitting the most appropriate name, or the name which is finally selected. If the winner should already be a paid up member his dues will be advanced another year without charge.

The club decided to hold regular meetings twice each month and the second Tuesday of the month was decided on as the day. A committee was appointed by President Stall to confer with the Chamber of Commerce relative to establishing in conjunction with them a permanent bureau of information. Among other matters brought up for discussion was that of bringing about an equitable price schedule for gasoline. It appears the price of gasoline is more or less uncertain and that there has never been any definite schedule of prices adopted by the dealers. To stabilize the gasoline market will be one of the first tasks on the club's program of activities.

An enthusiastic delegation from Allen was at the meeting yesterday, bringing with them forty or more new applications for membership. The meeting throughout was marked with much interest and enthusiasm, and the officers and directors are well pleased with the possibilities and future outlook of the new organization.

Roy Hudson of Coalgate was in the city yesterday transacting business interests.

NEW OIL STRIKE MADE YESTERDAY

Good Showing Reported by Carter-Nance-LaSelle
Northwest of Ada.

Wildest excitement prevails among members of the oil fraternity, over reports received from the Carter-Nance-LaSelle well in 32-5-5, twelve miles northwest of Ada, where oil-bearing sand, thought to be capable of large production was touched by the drill yesterday at a depth of slightly more than 1,600 feet. A strong pressure of gas is also coming from the hole.

The owners of the well have been summoned and are expected to reach Ada today to take charge of operations personally. While the sand has only been touched, indications are that a giant pool of high grade oil has been found and men in close touch with the situation are elated at the showing made.

Drilling was stopped as soon as the sand was reached, but when the bailer was run, it came out full of oil and it is thought that a few more taps of the drill will bring in a gusher that will satisfy the wildest dreams of men whose faith in Pontotoc county has never diminished.

A quantity of the oil taken from the well was brought to Ada and tested yesterday and it was found to be of a very high grade, testing 38 gravity.

The men in charge of the drilling who have not shown much concern when the several other sands which have been encountered in the well heretofore have been reached and drilled through, are very much enthused at the present prospects and are led to believe by the indications that a great strike has been found.

Because of its location, in wildcat territory, the well has been watched with the utmost interest by oil men interested in this section of the state and if the sand contains oil in paying quantities the announcement will start a great boom to the northwest of the city and will greatly stimulate activities throughout the county.

Some preparations must be made by the drillers to save the oil before the sand will be drilled in, but it is thought that the delay will not be longer than one week. Six and five-eighths casing was being used when the sand was reached and it will be necessary either to underream and lower that casing to the cap rock, or run a liner. The course to pursue will be decided on by the owners of the well when they arrive today.

Oil promoters who have been notified of the strike are already arriving in the city, and are ready to start the stampede which always follows when big things are found in an oil field.

L. D. Hibbs, production manager for the W. I. Davis company, which blocked the acreage for the Transcontinental Oil company four miles northwest of the Carter-Nance-LaSelle well, arrived from Tulsa in an airplane last night and announced that a drilling contractor will join him today and start an inspection of the company's holdings, with the view of making locations for two additional wells which the Transcontinental company will start within the next thirty days.

The Bibbs holdings comprise about ten thousand acres, lying northeast of the Carter-Nance-LaSelle well and the two wells to be drilled are to be deep tests, the same as the well now being drilled at 1,000 feet, in 14-5-4.

Oil Men Arrive To Take Charge Of Their Well

B. A. Laselle and Roy I. Carter, two of the owners of the Carter-Nance-LaSelle well in which the oil sand was reached yesterday, arrived from Wichita Falls, Tex., at noon today, to take charge of operations at their well.

The trip was made from Wichita Falls in a Franklin car and the 168 miles was made in six hours.

G. A. Nance, the other member of the syndicate, has not arrived in the city but is expected at any time. He lives at Abilene, Tex., and was notified of the good showing which has been found, yesterday afternoon.

Harry Lane and J. L. Van Dessen of Wichita Falls, accompanied Laselle and Carter.

APPEARS BEFORE BODY IN PERSON

Outlines Views with Regard to Domestic and Foreign Problems.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 12.—In his first address to congress today announcing he would approve a resolution by congress "with qualifications essential to protect all our rights, which would end the technical state of war against the central powers of Europe, the president added it would be idle to declare separate treaties of peace with the central powers on the assumption along that these would be adequate, because the situation is so involved that our peace engagement cannot ignore the old world relationship and the settlement already effected, nor is it desirable to do so in preserving our own right and contracting our future relationship.

"An association of nations," the president said, "could not be founded until the world was at peace."

The declaration in his first message to congress today that the United States would have no part in the present league of nations was received with a great demonstration.

Republican members of the senate and house, who, with members of the cabinet, crowded the house chamber to hear the president deliver his message in person, applauded vigorously. The demonstration quickly grew into cheering, the republican members standing. The galleries joined in the demonstration and it was some minutes before quiet was restored.

Hitchcock Smiles
The democrat members, many with stolid faces and folded arms, did not join in the demonstration. Senator Hitchcock, who led in the long fight in the senate in favor of the league, smiled broadly, however. Frequent applause from the republican side interrupted other portions of the president's statement on the league. Peace by congressional resolution also met with demonstrations of approval, but there was no applause for the suggestion that the peace terms of the treaty of Versailles be ratified with safeguarding reservations.

The president's address contained about 6,500 words and 55 minutes was required for its reading. The audience arose and cheered as the president finished, tucked his nose glasses in his vest pocket and shook hands with Vice-President Coolidge and Speaker Gillett.

WASHINGTON, April 12th.—Following a custom inaugurated by George Washington, abandoned by Thomas Jefferson and revived by Woodrow Wilson, President Harding delivered his first message to congress today in person. The two houses assembled in joint session in the house chamber, to hear the executive outline his views with regard to the many domestic and foreign problems pending for solution.

President Harding's principle recommendations to congress in his first annual address, delivered today included the following:

Taxation
"Readjustment of internal taxes and revision or repeal of those taxes which have become unproductive and are so artificial and burdensome as to defeat their own purpose."

Tariff
Instant tariff enactment, "emergency in character and understood by our people that it is for the emergency only."

Railroad
Efficient operation, "at a cost within that which the traffic can bear. Railroad rates and cost of operation must be reduced. The remaining obstacles, which are the inheritance of capitalistic exploitations must be removed and labor must join management in understanding that the public which pays is the public to be served and simple justice is the right, and will continue to be the right, of all the people."

Good Roads
The strengthening of laws governing federal aid.

Merchant Marine
"The United States needs to establish and maintain a great merchant marine communication. Private monopolies pending to prevent the development of needed facilities should be prohibited; government owned facilities, wherever possible without unduly interfering with private enterprise or government needs, should be available for general usage."

Aviation
Regulation by the federal government and encouragement of aviation.

LYING AS A HABIT.

Recently there was published in the personal organ of Henry Ford, the Dearborn Independent, an extended article on Southern cotton by some fake economist, who claimed to have lived for years in the Yazoo delta and therefore knew all there is to be known of the leading product of the South. The article was advertised by the Ford interests as the greatest write-up of the cotton situation that had ever appeared. But if the article published is a fair index of the writer's knowledge of cotton, then he knows no more about cotton than a Congo cannibal does about the inner gates of the New Jerusalem.

The recent demand of Southern cotton growers for 40c per pound for their cotton was the demand of profiteers says this purblind writer, because, vows he, shippers of Clarksdale, Mississippi, are making a handsome profit on cotton by shipping their product to foreign ports and selling it for 20c. This latter price in the opinion of Ford's prevaricator is enough to make the cotton grower rich beyond the wildest dream.

There is not one negro cotton chopper in the entire cotton belt who does not know that 20c cotton spelled ruin in 1920. When the cost of producing the cotton of 1920 is taken into consideration every sensible person knows full well that 20c would not begin to pay the cost. The last figures obtainable show that during the past year it cost at least 30c to produce and market a pound of cotton. Yet this egotistical ass from Dearborn sees a handsome profit in selling cotton at two-thirds the cost of production, and when he publishes his balderdash broadcast the ignorant inventor of the tin lizzie brands the story as the greatest article ever published concerning cotton growing in the South.

Henry Ford either for cash or otherwise sees a great and growing Semitic peril on the horizon of world politics. But if his paid scribblers know no more about the Jews than they do about cotton, then his blasphemous attacks on the Tribe of Israel are the rankest falsehoods that ever disgraced God's earth.

OKLAHOMA HAS WON.

That was a handsome victory won by the state of Oklahoma in the Red River boundary suit. It is not too much to say that it was the greatest legal battle the state has even won. It has been an up-hill fight all the way and success has crowned the efforts of the state's attorneys even where success was long considered impossible. Few people seemed to believe when the case was first filed that Oklahoma would eventually win. But the state has won its contest and won against the heaviest odds.

The greater part of the credit for this legal victory is due to the state attorney general, S. P. Freeling. He had splendid assistance from W. A. Durant and J. L. Carpenter of the state school land department, but he was leader in the contest and it was his lucid presentation of the facts that won for his commonwealth in the supreme court of the United States. The result of the litigation is undoubtedly very gratifying to Mr. Freeling and he deserves the hearty thanks of the people of Oklahoma.

The value of the disputed property is problematical, but it is thought that $20,000,000 is a conservative estimate of its present worth. Inasmuch as a large part of the river bed is oil producing territory it can easily be seen that the permanent school fund of the state has received a handsome dowry.

"IF YE BREAK THE FAITH"

When the boys were leaving for the fields of France we told them we would remember the dead and care for the stricken so long as they should live.

But congress remained in session for all but two solid years succeeding the armistice, and tho thousands of veterans were in sorest need no adequate provision was ever made for their wants.

The eighth Oklahoma legislature assembled a hundred days ago pledged to the program of soldiers' relief. But it made no provision for the comfort of those whose lives were slowly fading away. The session lost sight of its solemn obligation and died with a lie upon its lips.

The soldiers' hospital bill was sent to conference one hour before the House decided that it would no longer work for $2.00 a day. Only five lines of the soldiers' sanitarium bill remained to be enrolled when the House adjourned sine die.

After a hundred days of weary waiting the stricken soldiers of Oklahoma have no bed to die in. In the meantime the dead who died in Flanders sleep well.

Tells Childless Women What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did for Her

Millston, Wis.—"I want to give you a word of praise for your wonderful medicine. We are very fond of children and for a considerable time after we married I feared I would not have any owing to my weak condition. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I have a nice strong healthy baby girl. I can honestly say that I did not suffer much more when my baby was born than I used to suffer with my periods before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound years ago. I give all the credit to your medicine and shall always recommend it very highly."—Mrs. H. H. JANSSEN, Millston, Wisconsin.

How can women who are weak and sickly expect or hope to become mothers of healthy children? Their first duty is to themselves. They should overcome the derangement or debility that is dragging them down, and strengthen the entire system, as did Mrs. Janssen, by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and then they will be in a position to give their children the blessing of a good constitution.

EXCESS PROFIT TAX TO GET AX

Melton Will Recommend the Repeal of Law When Congress Meets.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Immediate repeal of the excess profits tax will be formally recommended to congress on Monday by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, the secretary announced Thursday.

Secretary Mellon stated that his tax revision program is not yet completed, but that he will have it ready to forward to congress on Monday.

The question of funding the floating indebtedness of the United States is under consideration, has will probably be deferred until after the tax revision program is under way, the secretary said.

Complaints have been received from American concerns in all parts of the world, Mr. Hoover said, that they were forced to compete with foreign houses who paid only local taxes while American concerns paid excess profits and income taxes at home in addition to the dues in the foreign countries.

Mr. Hoover declared that provision should be made to exempt American concerns from that portion of their profits derived from foreign business to enable them to meet competition.

Grief

I shall not make a garment of my grief,
Enshrouding me, for all the world to see,
But I shall wear grief as a secret charm,
Where none may see—close to the heart of me!

I shall not go in mourning livery
So that, as I pass by, the world will say,
"Behold a mourner," only night shall know
My tears—for I shall smile by day!

Yet they who grieve shall know the charm is there
Close to my heart—my secret talisman
And they will dry their eyes and smile at me,
The smile of those who grieve—and understand!

Entertains Friends

Miss Goldie Burnett and her brother Gordon were host and hostess to a number of friends at their home on West Sixth street last Friday evening. There was a large number present to partake of the evening's enjoyment and it was a gay affair for the young people.

The evening was most delightfully spent in the usual manner of playing games and enjoying each other's company, ending with an apron sewing contest by the boys. Of all the games and contests of the evening this proved the most interesting and exciting and the boys gallantly showed their ability to ply the celebrated needle. The winner of this was presented with a large delicious cake. Other refreshments were served after which the guests departed for their homes.

However, the citizens of the county, out of their appreciation and respect for Mr. Nebhut's efforts to do his duty, have come to the front and in turn done their duty to his family.

As Romance of Parents Ends Cupid Wins Anne Stillman

Anne Stillman and Harold Fowler McCormick, Jr.

NEW YORK, April 12.—(Special)—While the romance in the lives of James A. Stillman, multi-millionaire banker, and his wife, formerly "Fifi" Potter, is pounding to pieces on the rocks of the divorce court comes the word that Cupid, undaunted, has struck at the heart of Anne Stillman. Anne is the daughter of the Stillmans. It is rumored that she is engaged to marry Harold Fowler McCormick, Jr., son of the harvester king. Neither of the young folks will discuss the matter.

McCormick and his sister, Muriel with their father, have spent much time with Mrs. Stillman since her banker husband brought suit for divorce against her.

About the hotel where Mrs. Stillman was living with her two young children it was whispered that young romance was to be found in the midst of the tangled marital troubles of the elder Stillmans.

The son of the Chicago millionaire is tall, slender, though of athletic build, and quite handsome. His features are regular, his hair a dark brown and his eyes gray and alert. In his dress he is given to tweeds, very becoming to one of his tall, lithe figure.

Anne Stillman will inherit at least $2,000,000 from her grandfather's estate regardless of her attitude toward her father in his suit. Fowler McCormick it is reported, will inherit $50,000,000 soon after he is graduated from college.

and exhausted, they staggered into Fort Smith.

Thorne's man bore the rude casket into the court room where occupied a conspicuous position on the preliminary hearing, in the floor. The Indian is now in jail at Edmonton awaiting trial.

MUST HAVE DEAD MEN FOR MURDER CASES

(By the Associated Press.)

EDMONTON, Alta.—Sergeant Hubert Thorne of the Royal North West Mounted Police learned from lawyers that without a dead man somewhere in the case it is impossible to prove murder. The corpus delicti is the cornerstone of his professional ethics.

Thorne is stationed at Fort Simpson on the Mackenzie river, a fur post of the Hudson Bay company. When word reached him that a murder had been committed at Fort Providence, he took a few trusty men and hurried to the scene by dog-sled. An Indian hunter had killed another native and fled across the Sahara of wind-blown snow to a hiding place in the wilderness. Thorne tracked him to his cabin and arrested him.

But the arrest did not satisfy Thorne. He required the corpus delicti. The murdered man had been buried three weeks and grave snow had drifted over his grave. But Thorne located the spot and unearthed the body. Binding the coffin on his dog-sled, he cracked his whip over his malamutes and headed south for the nearest justice's court at Fort Smith, 400 miles away on the Slave river.

For four days they were storm-bound and huddled for shelter behind the coffin. After two weeks battle with storm and cold, weak

CURFEW WILL NOT BE OBSERVED IN CITY OF CHICAGO

CHICAGO, April 12.—The curfew will not ring tonight.

Police Chief Fitzmorris told reformers what he thought of the curfew law passed by the council, which would tuck all those under 16 years of age safely in their homes before 10 each night.

"We are too busy to chase people off the street," he said. "Our time is occupied by chasing bandits."

Desk Sergeant Riley commented as follows:

"How are we going to pick out those under 16 years of age when they all wear their skirts up to their knees. How? I ask you!"

INTEREST IN SCHOOL MEETS GROWS YEARLY

NORMAN, Okla., April 9.—Non-athletic events of the annual interscholastic meet at the University of Oklahoma have rivalled in but eight years the athletic program for interest in schools of the state, according to records compiled today by Lewis Salter, director of the non-athletic schedule and head of the university school of fine arts.

In 1913, previous to which the meet consisted entirely of track and field events, piano, voice and violin contests were listed and a final in high school debate was held at the university. A year later glee club, drawing, dramatic and oratorical declamation contests were opened. It was not until six years ago that the voice contests were given a chance to compete in original productions. Publications were added to non-athletic numbers in 1916 and manual training, mechanical drawing and domestic science contests were offered.

Current events did not appear on the meet program until 1918 and this was supplemented in 1919 by extempore speaking. Class "B" debates were also added at this time. Only last year home economics contests were established. Because of the addition of intellectual contests, participants in the meet have grown in number from only a few score to several hundred.

This year has been marked by the greatest addition at one time of non-athletic numbers. Fourteen curricular subjects will be contested this spring for the first time in Oklahoma. They are art, bookkeeping, chemistry, civics, English, geography, history, Latin, mathematics, modern languages physics, physiography, stenography and zoology.

This addition alone will draw at least twice as many non-athletic contestants as ever have met here it is estimated.

Non-athletic contests will open Wednesday night, May 4, with the pairing of Class "B" interscholastic debate teams and Thursday, May 5, the first regular day of the seventeenth annual interscholastic meet here, will be devoted exclusively to non-athletic numbers.

Musical Clubs of Normal Will Give Program Next Week

The three musical clubs of the Normal composed of the Girls' Glee club, the Boy's Blee club and the Treble Clef club, will give a program Wednesday evening, April 27 in the Normal auditorium, at which time one of the best musical features of the school year will be given. These clubs are under the supervision of Miss Emma K. Keller and have spared neither time nor trouble in their preparations for the event. Practice and rehearsals will continue until that time next week.

The first half of the program will consist of a choral cycle entitled "Old Plantation Days." This cycle is not a medley of familiar airs of the period such as: "Nellie Gray," "Campton Race," "Lilly Dale," "Old Kentucky," and others and no spirituals such "Go Down Moses," "Mary and Martha," and the like woven in its texture, but instead is an original work that is thoroughly American and full of color and contrast. It has been prepared in a manner that will satisfy the most skeptical and will be a joy to all music lovers.

The second half of the program will be as interesting and entertaining as the first, probably more so, as it will be presented by the Treble Clef club. The title of the act, "The Ladies Aid," a musical satire in one act, is well chosen. Such familiar characters as Mrs. Everest, Miss Dippy, and Mesdames Snappy and Tombstone, and others of like importance will be present at this time and will be formally introduced to the audience. For a good laugh, this will be excellent material and those who are present will not regret it.

This is the first time this year that the clubs have appeared in public on so large a scale and the greatest efforts are being put forth to make it a success. A good idea of the work that has been done and that is being done this year will be derived from the program.

Police Court Is Producing Revenue For the City of Ada

The city police court proved to be a pretty good revenue producer for the city during the past month, according to records of the mayor. During the month of March the mayor collected in fines $408.50, which was turned into the city exchequer. This did not include the fair sized number of cases in which stay bonds were given. The total amount of fines collected for the past month was considerably in excess of the amount collected in March, 1920, when the total was only $267.50. Mayor Kitchen says that March, 1920 was the lightest month so far as police court business is concerned that he has had since assuming the office of mayor.

Notice R. A. M. and R. and S. M. Regular meeting of Ada Chapter No. 26 and Ada Council No. 10 this evening at 7:30. All Royal Arch and Royal and Select Masters cordially invited to attend.

Oil Smoke Saves Fruit (Oil and Gas Journal)

W. C. Breeding, superintendent of the Pauls Valley (Okla.) school for boys, used oil to protect the fruit on the farm under his control, from the recent frosts, and was successful. He learned by wire, from the Weather Bureau, how the winds were to blow and set his barrage so as to keep the smudge among the trees. Three changes of the location of the cans containing the oil were necessary. After the wintry storm and attendant frosts had passed, the fruit was found to be safe. All the fruit in neighboring localities was destroyed. Throughout this state the fruit loss is figured at 95 per cent.

In future years orchardists should use an oil smoke barrage when frosts are threatened, not only in Oklahoma, but in all states. This method has been utilized successfully in California, in past years.

Tulsa Oil Man in Action (Oil and Gas Journal)

In Chicago, not long ago, an oil man was about to leave for Tulsa and just as the train was becoming impatient and was in a mood to start, the O. M. discovered that he had not procured a Sunday newspaper which he wished to peruse en route. While he was getting the paper the train escaped.

"I'd give $1,000 to catch that train," said the Tulsa, and a gate-man heard him. Negotiations followed. At a cost of over $200 a special enabled him to catch the flier at Joliet. He tipped everybody on the job and was delighted with the exhilaration of the experience.

"My reason in getting through on that train," he explained to a railroad man, "was simply a business proposition. I have a big oil deal on at Tulsa."

In the hurly-burly nobody thought to ask the man his name. This oversight was not of serious importance, however. Oil men do things like that, on the spur of the moment, and think nothing of them. They belong to the ancient and energetic order of "Live Wires."

NEWS NOTES FROM MOVIELAND

There are no discoveries which please us quite so much as the discovery of new talent or new faces, pretty ones of course, for the screen. The astronomers are not the only ones who know a new star when they see one. Film fans and directors are quite as keen to discover stars. Miss May Collins is one of the prettiest discoveries made in some time.

She will soon be seen in the Goldwyn picture, "Look Before You Leap," and she is surely worth looking at. It has been said that it is only her second picture, but she has had experience on the stage, having played in "At 9:45," "She Would and She Did," and several other Broadway successes.

Miss Collins has brown hair and gray eyes.

Bulletin.

As we go to press this gossip about Miss Collins reaches our desk from Los Angeles:

"Charlie Chaplin has picked another wife, according to well authenticated rumors going the rounds at Hollywood. She is May Collins, seventeen, star of Broadway and of the screen.

"Neither Chaplin nor Miss Collins would deny or affirm the report today.

"I have heard that rumors are going the rounds that Mr. Chaplin and I are to be married," Miss Collins said. "As a matter of fact we have discussed these reports, but any statement should come from him, I think."

"Charlie himself said he preferred 'not to discuss private affairs.'"

Elsie is Versatile.

In her latest Paramount picture, "Footlights," which is now in production at Paramount's eastern studio, Elsie Ferguson has a splendid opportunity to show her versatility. She plays the part of a vaudeville actress who climbs the ladder to success and becomes a famous Russian artist under the direction of a canny New York theatrical manager. The part gives her the opportunity to run the entire gamut of human emotions. In one of her scenes in the cheap vaudeville theatre Miss Ferguson does an impersonation of Eddie Foy.

What They're Doing.

Another quits Mack Sennett. Marie Prevost is to be featured by an independent company.

Metro's "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" recently opened in Los Angeles. Top price was $5.

I CANNOT GET ALONG WITHOUT IT

Mrs. M. P. Tilden and Others Praise Swamp Chill Tonic

Mrs. Tilden, who lives in Little Creek, La., says: "Swamp Tonic is the best medicine I ever used, and I cannot get along without it."

Mr. John Plunkett, who lives in Gore, Okla., says: "I know Swamp Tonic can be relied on to cure chills, and I would never be without a bottle in the house."

Elmer Park is also a booster for this famous old tonic that relieves so much malaria, ague, chills, etc. Mr. Park says: "Every home should have Swamp Chill Tonic in it. It is the one remedy that positively cures all forms of chills and fever."

H. W. Scoggins, Resa, La., accidentally ran across a bottle of Swamp Chill Tonic and writes us that he likes it fine. Other letters such as these come in to us almost every day.

Indians Will Cop 1921 Pennant; Best Machine, Add to Strength

By NORMAN E. BROWN

I'm stringing with the Cleveland Indians in the American league scramble. And not because I picked them last year and had the pleasure of having my prediction come true. The team is in better shape to deliver Jim Dunn a pennant this year than it was at the start of the last campaign. I can't see a team in the league that ought to beat it. The Yankees have the next strongest aggregation, but they still lack three vital requisites that the Indians have. These are speed, great pitching and harmony. Speaker's team is practically the only one in the league that is set. He has no new material to break in on his regular lineup. He does not have to depend on any pitching uncertainties to round out his hurling staff. And he hasn't one grumbling player on his team.

Have Mills to Start Season.

Speaker's team battled its way through the 1920 campaign—until the closing weeks—without a southpaw who could be depended upon to turn in a victory. The Indians had but two big winning pitchers—Stanley Coveleskie and Jim Bagby. Caldwell was of value to the club, but could not step into the breach day in and day out with Covey and Bagby. Mills showed by his work in the closing weeks of the regular campaign last year and in the world's series that he is the southpaw star of the big leagues right now. There is every reason to believe he will have a great year. With Mills, Coveleskie, Bagby and Caldwell as his big four and young Uhle, Bob Clark and possibly one other youngster to step in occasionally, Speaker has a great hurling staff. Uhle, who started out his big league career by beating the Browns every time the two clubs met, is about set for a regular berth. Bob Clark, although a youngster, has proved a valuable pinch hurler.

Sewell Improved Player.

Joe Sewell, who stepped into the late Ray Chapman's place in the heat of the pennant drive last year and did great work, has the advantage of that experience and weeks of training under the eyes of Speaker and Scout Jack McAllister. He has learned among other things, the proper way to whip the ball to first without setting himself. He has, thereby, learned to get the ball to first quicker and with greater accuracy. He hit like a fiend last fall and has had more big league pitching to solve this spring.

Speaker has a perfect double attack to work against right and left-hand hitters. Spoke plays center against both kinds. When a southpaw is on the mound he sends Evans to left and Wood to right. When a right hander is working against the Tribe Jamieson plays left and Elmer Smith, world's series home run king, plays right. All four of these boys are ball killers and good fielders. Doc Johnston plays first against right-handers and George Burns against south paws.

The Indians have one more valuable asset. That's a pinch hitter in Jack Graney, veteran left fielder. Jack can pinch hit, so to speak, by waiting out a rattled hurler or bunting as well as by slamming the ball.

And, backing up the playing strength of the team, Speaker has Chet Thomas, Les Nunamaker, brainy players, and wise Scout Jack McAllister on the bench to size up the opposition and help meet any new attack.

The Yanks, with their slam-banging, leather-murdering bunch of sluggers and two good pitchers may give the Indians a battle, but there seems no chance of heading off the Tribe.

ARE MEN VAIN?

Of course they are, just like women, except they don't let on so much. Every man and woman wants three things—health, good looks and money. Good looks depend upon health, and health depends largely upon the blood. If your blood isn't pure and plentiful, you need Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the reliable blood tonic, invigorator and purifier. Nothing but vegetable ingredients in it—positively no alcohol. It is safe for every one in the family to take. Send Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., 10c for trial package Tablets.

To Exhume Bodies of Soldier Dead Work Will be Under Way by Early Summer

Work in the actual exhumation of bodies of the soldier dead interred in the Suresnes cemetery, Delleau Wood cemetery, and the Argonne cemetery will begin after May 1 next. Only those bodies from these cemeteries will be removed to this country where requests for their return have been filed with the Cemetery Division, office of the Quartermaster General of the Army, Washington, D. C. These cemeteries, together with the Flanders Field cemetery at Bony, department of the Aisne, have been designated as permanent American cemeteries for the interment of the dead not to be returned to this country. This will in no way affect the previous requests of relatives for the return of remains to ment agencies now working on the submitting and endorsement of the pending maternity bill.

Lynching

"Congress ought to wipe the stain of barbaric lynching from the banners of a free and orderly representative of democracy. A proposal of a commission with representatives of the white and black races to study and report on the subject," said the president "had real merit."

Army and Navy

Early consideration of pending appropriation bills were urged.

"The government is in accord with the wish to eliminate the burdens of heavy armament," said the president. "The United States will ever be in harmony with such a movement toward the higher attainments of peace, but we shall not entirely discard our agencies for defense until there is removed the need to defend. We are ready to co-operate with other nations to approximate disarmament, but merest prudence forbids that we disarm alone."

National Finance

"The staggering load of war debts must be cared for in orderly funding and gradual liquidation. We shall hasten the solution and aid effectively in lifting the tax burden if we strike resolutely at the expenditure."

Business

"Less of government in business as well as more business in government. There is no challenge to honest and lawful business success. Anxious as we are to restore the onward flow of business, it is fair to this country for private burial or burial in national cemeteries.

Major General H. L. Rogers, the quartermaster general, announced today: "Preparations are now being made to begin work in early summer. The necessary supplies and labor are being concentrated near these cemeteries, and the department expects the work to be greatly expedited when exhumations begin. The relatives of the American soldier dead have been very patient in waiting for the return of the remains of their loved ones. The war department sought at all times to acquaint them with the magnitude of the task as well as the many difficult and unforeseen obstacles that were and are being confronted in this task."

combine assurance and warning in one utterance."

Agriculture.

"The maintained retail cost in perishable food cannot be justified. Reduced cost of basis production has been recorded, but the high cost of living has not yielded in a like proportion. Without the spirit of hostility or haste in accusation of profiteering, some suitable inquiry by congress might speed the price readjustment to normal relationship, with helpfulness to both producer and consumer. The measuring of fair prices will satisfy the country and give us a business revival to end all depression and unemployment."

These were the principle subjects touched upon in the address, which was about 6,500 words in length and a large portion of which was devoted to the related subjects of peace, the league of nations and the country's foreign policy.

The president discussed the peace question and opened with a decided declaration against the existing league of nations.

"In the existing league of nations, world governing with its super powers," said the president, "this republic will have no part."

"There can be no misinterpretation and there will be no betrayal of the deliberate expression of the American people in the recent election. It is only fair to say to the world in general, as to our associates in the world war in particular, that the league covenant can have no sanction by us. Manifestly the highest purpose of the league of nations was defeated in linking it with the treaty of peace and making it the enforced agency of the victors of war."

"In rejecting the league covenant and uttering the rejection to our own people and to the world, we make no surrender of our hope and aim for an association to promote peace, in which we would most heartily join. In the national referendum (the last election) we pledged our efforts for an association and the pledge will be faithfully kept. In the light of policy and performance, we told the American people we meant to seek an early establishment of peace. The United States alone among the allied and associated powers, continues in a technical state of war against the central powers of Europe."

The president summoned the republican senate foreign relations committee to the White House for a final discussion of the portions of his address dealing with foreign relations prior to its delivery.

Harold Constant is reported to be ill at his home today.

Insure Your Future Business

Advertising is simply Business Insurance. Your advertisements of today and tomorrow should have a broader scope than just immediate results. It should be a part of the foundation on which you are building for the future.

Just because you may have more business than you can handle today is no reason why you should not advertise. There may come a time when you will not be so overburdened—when you will want business and will not be able to get it, because you have not built a foundation of good will and confidence in your store when you had the chance.

The cost of this Business Insurance is low, and we have at your command the entire resources of the Bonnet-Brown Sales Service to help you with Illustrations and Ad Suggestions.

or excessive innervation of the eye muscles depletes the nerve centers. It also gives rise to brain irritation of various degrees—dispositions are altered by it, character is forcibly changed; mental faculties are impelled into channels of work that are anomalous.

These conditions may force a man to appear to the world an entirely different character from what he otherwise would have been. So, if in time these disturbing conditions can be corrected, we may expect to see favorable changes in the physical, mental and moral parts of the individual.
